

College Credit Plus Certificate Pathways
ohio.edu/dualenrollment

I would like to participate in the certificate pathway at the Fairfield County Workforce Center indicated below.

- Automation Technician Certificate
- Mechatronics Technician Certificate

- In order to enroll in a certificate pathway, students must have a Math Placement Level 1 (PLI). Ohio University does not permit College Credit Plus students to enroll in remedial and/or developmental courses under either Option A or B. Students assigned an initial Developmental Level (DV) placement may be eligible to take the PL/ Math Placement Test if they do not have credit for a math class at Ohio University. Students should consult their academic advisor for guidance.
- Certificate pathways are offered at the Fairfield County Workforce Center; however, transportation will not be provided. Students will be responsible for ensuring they have consistent transportation to and from the Fairfield County Workforce Center.
- Students who fail or withdraw from courses may be asked by their school districts for reimbursement for the cost of tuition and books.
- Not all college courses will satisfy high school graduation requirements.
- Prior to enrolling in an online course, students should first ensure access to appropriate computer and internet technology. Lack of access may prevent a student from completing assignments and participating in course discussion, which could negatively impact the grade earned.

Participation in the certificate pathways first requires admission to OHIO's College Credit Plus program. If you have not already applied, please visit ohio.edu/dualenrollment for eligibility information and application instructions.

I confirm that I have reviewed the information listed above and fully understand the potential risk of participation in the certificate program.
