

KIM WALKER

FEATURES

10

Night Watchman

Phil Allman knew he could add more to sea turtle research efforts by working in Ghana than almost anywhere else on earth. A Fulbright — which Ohio students have been increasingly successful in landing — helped him get there.

16

One Speech at a Time

Talk, talk, talk. That's all the debate and forensics students ever do! But they've set their sights on being tops in the nation, and nothing can stop them from returning the team to its former glory.

20

One Baker Day

It feels like home already — even though we just moved in. The brand-new campus hub has familiar spots we've known and loved, plus much, much more.

Above: Cherry blossoms add an extra bit of beauty to a family's recent walk along the bike path. The trees, planted in 1979, were a gift from Japan's Chubu University, which continues to have strong ties to Ohio University.

*On the cover: A leatherback turtle like those alumnus Phil Allman is tracking in Ghana
Photo by Michael Nichols/National Geographic/Getty Images*

DEPARTMENTS

5 ACROSS THE COLLEGE GREEN

Scientist makes no small impact

26 THROUGH THE GATE

Former pro golfer up for top honors

30 FIELD NOTES

Finding all the right words

32 WITH YOUR SUPPORT

Community rallies for kids' sake

34 FROM YOUR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Chapter by chapter, where alumni live

36 BOBCAT TRACKS

A once-in-a-lifetime performance

42 IN MEMORIAM

Remembering fellow alumni

Find us on the Web

Ohio University: ohio.edu

Ohio Today Online: ohio.edu/ohiotoday