The National Association Social Workers (2005) have stated goals as a part of the Standards for Technology and Social Work Practice. The goals are as follows:

- to maintain and improve the quality of technology-related services provided by social workers
- to serve as a guide to social workers incorporating technology into their services
- to help social workers monitor and evaluate the ways technology is used in their services
- to inform clients, government regulatory bodies, insurance carriers, and others about the professional standards for the use of technology in the provision of social work services (2005, p. n/a).

For my classroom purposes, I would adapt these goals but also add the following:

--integrate technology into the classroom setting, specifically address technologically related issues to practice, i.e. note taking, confidentiality, electronic medical record, etc.
