Administrative Achievements

Interim Director, School of Communication Studies (COMS), 2011 to July 2013.

- Provided supervision of an academic program, including a faculty of 20 (Tenured, Tenure Track, and Adjunct Faculty), 38 Graduate Teaching Associates, 2 administrative personnel, and more than 500 undergraduate and graduate students.
- Sought feedback and support from our regional campus faculty colleagues who provide valuable instruction for our COMS students completing their degrees on one of our five regional campuses. COMS is one of only a few academic programs that have established a curriculum and instruction for students to complete their BSC away from Athens.
- Utilized PeopleAdmin system for recruiting and hiring faculty and staff.
- Utilized Concur and Oracle systems to manage financial accounts of more than $3,000,000, including operating, grant, and foundation accounts. Interacted daily with School Budget Manager to keep informed of financial obligations and expenditures.
- Utilized PeopleSoft and Astra systems to schedule more than 225 undergraduate and 25 graduate courses, including online, mass lecture, large lecture, and seminar formats.
- Successfully managed our School's transition from the Quarter to Semester System, which required training and supervising transition advisors, developing an Excel Template to help students measure progress under both systems, and providing support for faculty advisors. In addition, worked extensively with the Registrar's Office as well as the Scripps College of Communication Dean's Office to ensure quality control of the transition process.
- Worked with two-year institutions in the state to create transfer agreements for student transfers.

Associate Director of Undergraduate Studies, School of Communication Studies, July 2010 to 2012; May 2015 to August 2024

Responsible for initial contact for new and transferring students, monitoring the progress of approximately 500 UG majors, and providing guidance for COMS faculty on issues such as general education requirements, transfer equivalence, etc. Major responsibilities during 2010-2012 academic years included preparing for the Quarter to Semester transition.

Director: Political Communication Certificate Program, 2002 to 2012, 2023-present.

Annual Budget of $10,000. Assisted undergraduate students with individual research projects, employment placement, etc. Increased budget to $15,000 beginning in 2008.

Co-Director of the Scripps Survey Research Center, 2008 to 2010.

The SSRC hosts a 20-station telephone survey system responsible for the completion of a range of surveys for academicians, non-profit organizations, and professional organizations. Responsibilities include recruiting, training and scheduling callers, securing jobs, development of web and programming, etc.

Director: Nationally Competitive Forensics Program (1996-2005).

Participant in: American Forensics Association, International Forensics Association, National Forensics Association, Delta Sigma Rho - Tau Kappa Alpha National Forensics

Fraternity, and Interstate Oratorical Association. Responsibilities include: managing a $40,000 budget; awarding $6,000 in scholarship funds; hosting an annual collegiate invitational tournament; and, establishing a working relationship with alumni.

Additional Achievements:

- University of Oklahoma: As the Director of the Speech and Debate Program, I successfully guided the relocation of the program from the Department of Communication to the Honors College, negotiating with the Deans of Arts and Science and the Honor's College for an increase in budget and scholarship funds.
- Pittsburg State University: Provided supervision and school visits for Speech Communication and Theater Student Teachers completing their degrees at Pittsburg State University, Department of Communication. Successfully negotiated an increase in support for the Speech and Debate Program from $8,000 to $14, 000 (1988-92).

Courses Taught and/or Prepared to Teach

I have taught a variety of courses in the communication discipline, along with interdisciplinary seminars and course developed by the University College as part of Learning Community Programs (Ohio University). I am comfortable in small seminar style graduate and undergraduate courses, mass lecture (up to 400 students, with and without lab sections), team teaching, as well as on-line instruction. I enjoy working with students to help them recognize and develop their potential, including an understanding of theory, communication practice and public service as they relate to their lived experiences.
