1 Ohio University
Athens OH 45701

Students who have earned fewer than 20 semester hours or 24 hours of college credit must submit an official copy of their high school or GED transcript. Students who earned a GED on or after January 1, 2010, or whose incarceration occurred in that current facility may ask their education department to send a duplicate copy of the GED transcript to Undergraduate Admissions with a cover letter on institutional/educational form. If the transcript and letter must be obtained by the educational staff. Nondegree students must submit copies of previous coursework, which may be unofficial copies. Our staff cannot request a transcript for a student.

Nondegree Students

Students who wish to take courses for personal enrichment may apply as nondegree-seeking students. The course completed will earn college credit; however, no evaluations of college credit will be conducted, and no degree-planning advice is available.

Nondegree students must submit copies of previous college, high school, or GED transcripts to Undergraduate Admissions, but the copies may be unofficial documents. Nondegree students may only enroll in courses that have no mandatory requirements since no transcript evaluations will take place.

Nondegree students may change to degree-seeking status by completing a new application and submitting official transcripts to Undergraduate Admissions. Students will not “lose” credit completed during their nondegree status.

Credit by Examination

Subject to approval by the academic department in each case, Ohio University will allow credit for self-study for life experiences, experiential learning, and for examinations that have been previously administered. The University does not award credit for courses achieved on the GED general equivalency diploma. Ohio University reserves the right to award credit based on self-study, independent study, or credit by examination.

Credit for Armed Forces Services

Some universities may consider the military transcript and letter must be mailed by the educational staff. Nondegree students must submit copies of previous coursework, which may be unofficial copies. Our staff cannot request a transcript for a student.

Admission Process

A student must submit an application, the application fee, and transcripts to be considered for admission. After all materials have been processed by Undergraduate Admissions, the student will receive information offering or denying admission. The student should allow a minimum of six to eight weeks for this process to be completed.

Admitted students will receive a welcome packet from the academic advisor who includes information about courses, personal program information, degree-seeking students will receive details about degree requirements and the status of transfer credit. The welcome packet will also include instructions about completing the course registration form. The student should be submitted by no later than the admission advisor’s recommendation for the initial enrollment. After the student submits the form and it has been approved, an invoice will be sent to the student and the student’s advisor will verify the contact if the registration form is completed. If the registration is denied, the student will be notified.

Payment will be accepted only after the invoice has been generated. Partial payments will be accepted; however, no grade or credit will be recorded until the invoice is paid in full. The student will be enrolled in the course the following semester. Course materials may be delivered to the student after payment is made.

Correctional Education

Welcome

We are pleased to respond to your interest in Ohio University, an institution accredited by the Higher Learning Commission. Through Ohio University Correctional Education, students can become enrolled in state-authorized courses that are part of a degree or nondegree program in a print-based format that is accessible in most prison facilities. All academic coursework happens through the mail, including academic advising, evening, shipping course materials, coordinating leases, and grading.

Through Ohio University Correctional Education, students have more options for study:

• Degree-seeking student: The student earns college credit for courses completed toward a degree.
• Nondegree student: The student earns college credit, but he or she does not participate in a degree plan.
• Legal education courses: The student receives no college credit. A certificate is awarded upon course completion.

Courses

Degree-seeking and nondegree students may choose to earn college credit through print-based courses, which include a combination of lectures and exams with minimal instruction. There is an option to complete college credit by examination, which involves no instructor guidance. From the date of enrollment, students have eight months to complete a print-based course. For course credit by examination, the student has six months from the date of enrollment to take the examination.

Examinations

Most Ohio exams that must be supervised (proctored) by an individual approved by our office. Prior to applying for admittance, a student should check with the facility’s education department to determine if a testing proctor is available. Our office includes test supervisors, vocational instructors, or other administrative staff members. OHIO Testing Services staff will need to appoint the proctor’s student. All exams are taken in the facility where the student resides, and all exams will be due within two quarters of the proctor at the facility address. It is the responsibility to locate a proctor if a proctor is not available at the facility, the student should not apply for admission.

Academic Advisor

Admissions for students is assigned to degree and nondegree incarcerated students. The advisor serves as the student’s personal connection to the University. After the student is admitted, the advisor will send the student a detailed welcome packet.

Continuing Studies After Release

Ohio University students who have been convicted of a felony must complete a review process. This process is designed for students participating through the Correctional Education program during the period of incarceration only. Correctional Education students who wish to enroll in a new course after being released must submit a re-enrollment form to the Office of the University Registrar and complete the required felony review process through the Office of Legal Affairs. After the review process, the University will determine a student’s post-release enrollment options, including on-campus, online, and/or print-based enrollment. In some cases, a Correctional Education student may be prohibited from continuing enrollment at OHIO after release. Information about this policy is available on the Correctional Education admission website.

After release, students will be permitted to continue and complete any existing enrollments without going through the felony review process, not enrolling a second additional enrollment will not be filled additional course credit. Students who enroll in a new course after being released will be assessed current tuition and fees for print-based, course credit, online, or online courses. Current tuition rates are available from the Office of the Bursar.
