NATURE OF THE EXAMINATION:

The following are meant as a guide only, to give you some sense of the type of questions to expect on the exam. Besides questions such as these, you will also be expected to define important theoretical concepts and to match major literary theorists with the statement that best describes them.

Sample question one:
For the following passage, identify the title of the story, the author, and the relevance and significance of that extract to the overall story.

I ain’t saying I’m like Jesus . . . But I got tired like Him, an’ I got mixed up like Him, an’ I went into the wilderness like Him, without no campin’ stuff. Nighttime I’d lay on my back an’ look up at the stars; morning I’d set an’ watch the sun come up; midday I’d look down from a hill at the rollin’ dry country; evenin’ I’d foller the sun down. Sometimes I’d pray like I always done. On’y I couldn’ figure what I was prayin’ for. There was the hills, an’ there was me, an’ we wasn’t separate no more. We was one thing. An’ that one thing was holy.
Sample question two:
Write a fully developed three-part essay (with an introduction, body, and conclusion) drawing upon two of the novels that you read in this course, comparing and contrasting how they represent the theme of broken dreams, failed ambitions, and unrealized opportunities. Be thorough in your response and deal with all parts of the question.
