Student Resources for Sexual Misconduct

Ohio University Policy 03.004: Sexual Misconduct, Relationship Violence, and Stalking (www.ohio.edu/policy/03-004.html)

Sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, are impediments for Ohio University students and staff to have equal opportunities for accessing education or employment. Therefore sexual misconduct in any form is a Title IX civil rights issue.

Reporting Process: Once a report has been made to the Office of Equity and Civil Rights Compliance (ECRC), the following things will happen:

- ECRC will contact you shortly after obtaining details and schedule a meeting with you. Investigators will be present from ECRC and Community Standards and Student Responsibility (CSSR) will be present during this meeting.
- Generally, investigators will explain the university sexual misconduct resolution process, offer you information on resources and options available to you, and ask for a detailed account of the incident.
- For detailed information regarding the investigation process, please refer to the CSSR website: www.ohio.edu/communitystandards.

Request for Confidentiality

You may request that your name not be used as part of any investigation that the university may initiate. Requests for confidentiality must be made directly by you to the Office of Equity and Civil Rights Compliance (ECRC). The individual making the referral may share that you wish to request confidentiality, but it will not be considered a formal request until made by you to ECRC.

You should know that the individual making the referral is required to provide ECRC with your name. Should you choose to request confidentiality, please be aware that the inability to use your name can significantly impede the university's ability to conduct an investigation and, in most cases, the university will be unable to investigate the matter or resolve it through the student conduct process. Additionally, confidentiality can also impact the corrective measures the university is able to put in place.

For example, a no-contact directive could not be issued if your name cannot be shared.

Request for Confidentiality Review

Requests for confidentiality will be reviewed jointly by the Office of Equity and Civil Rights Compliance (ECRC) and Community Standards and Student Responsibility (CSSR) and you will be notified of the outcome of your request. While the university will make every attempt to honor requests for confidentiality, some of the reasons a request for confidentiality may be denied include, but are not limited to:

- The reported use of force during the commission of an alleged violation of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, or stalking;
 - The reported use of a weapon during the commission of an alleged violation of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, or stalking;
 - Significant physical injury resulting from an alleged violation of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, or stalking; or
 - The involvement of multiple respondents in the commission of an alleged violation of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, or stalking.
- Prior allegations (substantiated or not) of sexual misconduct, relationship violence, or stalking made against the alleged perpetrator. Requesting confidentiality does not relinquish your ability to avail yourself of support resources.
