Academic Residency Requirement:

From Current Graduate Catalog:
“Normally, at least three academic quarters of the doctoral program are in continuous residence on the Athens campus in an institutional full-time status (registration for 9 graduate credits. If you receive Ohio University stipend support, you are considered to have instructional full-time status by registering for a minimum of 12 graduate credits for an assistantship, or a minimum of 15 graduate credits for Recruitment scholarship/stipend, fellowship, or tuition scholarship only.

The continuous residence requirement applies to the period of graduate study following the completion of the master’s degree or the completion of at least 45 graduate credits.”

Q2S Conversion (Graduate Council decisions shown in bold):
“Normally, at least two academic semesters of the doctoral program are in continuous residence on the Athens campus in an institutional full-time status (registration for 9 graduate credits). If you receive Ohio University stipend support, you are considered to have instructional full-time status by registering for a minimum of 12 graduate credits for an assistantship, or a minimum of 15 graduate credits for Recruitment scholarship/stipend, fellowship, or tuition scholarship only.

The continuous residence requirement applies to the period of graduate study following the completion of the master’s degree or the completion of at least 30 graduate credits.”
