COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

FILM (MFA & MA)

ABOUT THE PROGRAM
The School of Film provides an educational environment of creativity, diversity and excellence where talented, motivated, and disciplined students examine and develop the art and craft of the motion picture as an art form and a dynamic cultural force in the 21st Century.

PROGRAM GOALS
The MFA in Film is a professional three-year program of study for talented individuals seeking advanced training in directing, screenwriting, producing, cinematography, editing and motion picture sound with a solid background in film history, theory, and criticism. The MFA is a terminal degree and is designed for students who wish to work as independent film artists, enter the film industry, or teach at the college or university level. The MA in Film Studies is a two-year program in film history, analysis, and theory designed to prepare students for further study at the doctoral level or for careers in which a film studies background may be relevant, including film criticism; arts-related writing fields; administration of arts, museum, or academic programs; administrative positions in film or media production; and library, archive, or film preservation work.

FINANCIAL AID & SCHOLARSHIPS
Our students generally receive some combination of tuition waivers and graduate assistantships during their years of study in the School of Film. Compared with the cost of graduate film schools elsewhere, we most definitely are a very good financial value.

FACILITIES/ADDED ATTRACTIONS
Our filmmaking program stays current with the constant changes in production and post-production technologies. Our students work in 16mm, high definition, and digital video and the post-production facilities are state of the art.

The School of Film is bolstered by an award-winning faculty including renowned director Rajko Grlic; the annual Athens International Film and Video Festival; an affiliation with the local art house theater, the Athena Cinema; a broad range of visiting artists and scholars; and the rich cultural and intellectual life of Ohio University.
