Division of Student Affairs Mission
The Division of Student Affairs at Ohio University prepares students to be responsible and contributing members of a diverse, global society by providing learning-centered environments, meaningful out-of-class opportunities, and professional support services that help them learn through their experience and achieve academic success.

The Five C’s

Character

“Ohio University holds as its central purpose the intellectual and personal development of its students” is the first sentence of OHIO’s mission statement. Personal integrity and character both inside and outside of the classroom are inherent elements of Ohio University. Members of the OHIO community are expected to commit to the highest standards of personal honesty and ethical behavior.
Community

Membership in the Ohio University community includes being involved and responsible members of not only the university community, but also the local Athens community and the global community. All members of the OHIO community are expected to be responsible community members, to show appreciation for diversity and to represent the values of the OHIO community.

Citizenship

Members of the OHIO community contribute to the advancement of society, both now and for future generations. Such a commitment to the public sphere can have many expressions, such as voting, recycling, volunteering, using public transportation and cleaning up litter. The OHIO citizen gives more than they take. They are responsible citizens both on and off campus, foster community involvement, become engaged citizens acting for the public good, and respect university property and property of others.

Civility

The OHIO community is an open forum involving the free exchange of ideas and scholarly discourse. For free and open exchange to occur, members of the OHIO community are expected to embrace civility in communication at all times.

Commitment – The OHIO Promise

Sincere and true commitment is practicing your beliefs and values. Once you have committed yourself to becoming a community member at OHIO, you commit to hold yourself and your fellow OHIO community members to these values.

Who We Are

Housing and Residence Life Staff
The Department of Housing and Residence Life has over 300 staff members committed to making your living environment a community focused on learning, development, and acceptance. Below you will find descriptions of our in-hall staff that are here to help you.

Resident Assistant (RA): The Resident Assistant is a student who has completed a selection and training process designed to prepare her/him for working with students in the residence halls. The RA lives on and manages a floor section that you will interact with most during the academic year. Your RA is a great source of information and should be the first individual that you contact with a question or concern.

Assistant Resident Director (ARD): The Assistant Resident Director, like an RA, is a student who resides in a residence hall and but does not manage a floor section. The ARD has the added responsibility of assisting the Resident Director/Graduate Resident Director in coordinating administrative functions in the building such as room changes and key inventories. Additionally, the ARD assists in advising the hall council and coordinating hall programming efforts.
Graduate Resident Director (GRD): A Graduate Resident Director is a full-time graduate student and a part-time employee responsible for a hall. The GRD supervises the residence hall staff, works with all residents to establish a positive living environment and a sense of community, and manages crisis situations. A GRD acts in an advisory capacity on personal and academic issues and helps to interpret and uphold university policies. GRDs will post office hours within their hall.

Residential Director (RD): A Resident Director is a full-time on-site professional responsible for a hall or complex. The RD supervises the residence hall staff, works with all residents to establish a positive living environment and a sense of community, and manages crisis situations. An RD acts in an advisory capacity on personal and academic issues and helps to interpret and uphold university policies. RDs will post office hours within their hall or complex.

Welcome

Welcome to Athens! As you progress through your college career, you will begin to identify Ohio University as your home. It is also important to remember that this home extends beyond the borders of campus and into the surrounding communities. Get to know the local residents, the local culture, and give back to the community that has welcomed you with open arms.

Please remember you are a Bobcat on and off-campus and represent Ohio University in everything that you say and do on a daily basis. Your actions will be equated with the quality of our institution. You are now representing the first and finest university in the Northwest Territory; discover your promise, and proudly represent your new home in all that you do.

- East Green Office, Jefferson Hall, 740-597-9968

Your Building/Complex

There are many ways to get involved in your living community. Attending programs or joining hall council are great ways to meet new people and gain new skills. Hall Councils are a self-governing body that enacts change in the living environment of the halls, plans activities and community service, and recommends improvements to the hall. Talk with your RA about the opportunities in your hall or complex.

Each building/complex has a staff office that is open daily from 8:30 pm-10:00 pm and staffed by Resident Assistant (RA) staff. Also each building/complex has a GRD or RD office where office hours will be posted. Feel free to stop by office hours or call to make an appointment to meet with your GRD or RD.
Your Floor Section

Your floor section is your new home for the year, and is comprised of a variety of people from very different backgrounds. However, you all share one thing in common; you all share the same living community within the residence hall. During the Mandatory Opening Meeting, hosted by your RA, you and your floor mates will create a community agreement. This document is a list of community expectations which the floor section creates collaboratively and for which you will be expected to hold one another accountable.

Your Roommate(s)

Having to share your bedroom and living space with someone is often an adjustment. Our best advice is to spend plenty of time getting to know your roommate(s), face-to-face, during the first few weeks, talk to each other about the ground rules for your shared living space, and complete the Roommate Agreement. Your RA will be a resource as you complete your roommate agreement.

Here are four ways to ensure that you and your roommate have a positive and successful relationship with one another:

- Communication entails talking and listening to your roommate(s), especially about issues that will affect your relationship (e.g., borrowing items; study times). It’s wise to talk person-to-person with your roommate(s) about any concerns or conflicts as early as possible.
- Consideration is another handy attribute for living with other people. The best way to be considerate is to think before you act. Ask yourself how your actions might affect others. Most conflicts occur due to a lack of consideration, but remember these conflicts can be resolved through communication!
- Compromise is the foundation of any healthy relationship. If your roommate likes to go to bed and get up early and you prefer to stay up late and sleep in, a little give and take can remedy the situation. Simple compromises can make a tremendous difference.
- Cooperation involves roommates working together toward a common goal. It may be something as simple as making sure that the garbage can isn’t overflowing or that recycling is being done. When roommates agree on common goals, all roommates, mod-mates, or suitemates can work toward ensuring that the goals are met.

If you and your roommate(s) encounter conflicts, your RD/GRD and/or RA can serve as a helpful resource in helping resolve roommate conflicts.

Cable

All residence hall rooms have been wired for HD digital cable television access. Students need to bring a coaxial cable and a TV with an integrated QAM tuner to take full advantage of this service. Most HD or digital TVs sold after 2006 have an integrated digital QAM tuner--check your owner’s manual for details.

For the entire channel lineup, program guide, or to report any problems check out CATVision online at www.ohio.edu/catvision.

Inventory

A Housing and Residence Life staff member inspected the condition of your room and recorded this information on your online Room Condition Report (RCR) prior to move-in. During move in, you will be given an opportunity to review the RCR online and record any additional information that should be noted. Any damages that may occur between move-in and move-out will be your responsibility and the shared responsibility of your roommates.
Loft Information

It is important to note that lofts may be utilized in most, but not all, residence hall rooms. To determine whether your room will accommodate a loft visit http://www.ohio.edu/housing/halls/amenities.cfm#Lofts.

The only lofts permitted are those provided in rooms by the university or those from BedLoft.com. Please contact www.bedloft.com for direct ordering of lofts.

Housing and Residence Life is not responsible for the distribution, care, or pick-up of lofts from BedLoft.com.

Room Furnishings

Each residential room includes built-in or stand-alone drawers and cabinets. Additionally, each room contains a desk, desk chair, bed, bed safety rail (for rooms with bunked beds) and mattress, for each resident. Each room contains two trash cans and one refrigerator/microwave unit (no personal refrigerators or microwaves are allowed). Room furniture or furnishing may not be removed from the room at any time. Removal of furniture may result in room residents being charged for the replacement of missing items.

Personal Property and Responsibility for Loss/Theft/Damage

Any belongings that are not university furnished or that you bring from home are considered your personal property. Please note that Ohio University neither insures nor is responsible for loss, theft or damage to the personal property belonging to students, faculty or staff. This includes damage caused by facility malfunctions such as a water leak.

Students are strongly encouraged to purchase renters insurance or check with your family’s home owner’s policy regarding coverage off premises.

Telephones

The university does not provide telephones in student rooms. There is a non-activated phone line in each room. A student can make a request to the Office of Information Technology (OIT) at 593-1222 if they wish to activate the phone line. The student will need to provide the phone and pay any associated service fees.

Temperature

If your AC freezes up, turn off your A/C unit and let it thaw for at least 24 hours. If your room gets really warm in the winter, we suggest that you open the window. Do not run your air conditioner and leave your window open simultaneously. If your room is really cold in the winter, check the heating vent on the bottom portion of the wall in your room. If the vent is covered or blocked by your personal belongings then air will not be able to properly circulate around your room. Move furniture away from vent. Plastic and tape are available at Green Offices to help seal any area around your window that might allow cold air in.

Leaning flammable objects against or on these vents could potentially start a fire. Keep these vents clear of obstructions at all times. If the cold room temperature persists after clearing the area around the vent, submit a maintenance request at the Facilities Maintenance Request website, https://www.facilities.ohiou.edu/requests/login.php.
Many rooms are equipped with either central air conditioning or window units. For rooms without this amenity, no personal units are allowed. Housing and Residence Life and Facilities are unable to install air conditioning units into rooms.

Health and Safety

Appliances
The microwave provided by the university has a Safe-T Sensor on the back which detects burning food. The Safe-T Sensor must remain plugged in at all times. Removal and/or damage to the Safe-T Sensor may result in a monetary fine/fee, along with a conduct referral with the Office of Community Standards and Student Responsibility. If you experience an issue with your Safe-T-Sensor, you should file a work order at: https://www.facilities.ohiou.edu/requests/login.php.

Building Kitchens, Food Preparation and Clean-Up
To limit the likelihood of insects becoming a problem you should not store perishable food items in open containers. Cooking in residence hall rooms is restricted to only those foods that can be heated using the fridge/microwave unit, water in hot pots, or popcorn in popcorn makers. Make sure that waste is taken to the dumpster to prevent insects from finding their way into your room.

There are student kitchens in Bryan Hall, Carr-Sowle Complex, Hoover House, Tanaka-Luchs Complex, and Voigt Hall. These kitchens are available to students living in those buildings/complexes. Please contact the ARD/GRD/RD in that building to learn more about kitchen access. Each area is subject to regular inspections by Environmental Health and Safety. Any violations of food preparation and clean-up expectations can result in the indefinite closure of kitchens.

Cell Phone
Take the time now to program your cell phone speed dial to access the Ohio University Police Department at 740-593-1911. It never hurts to have a direct line to our police department or escort service in case you would ever need them. If your cell phone does not identify an “ICE” or “In Case of Emergency” phone number, please take the time to also program that number into your cell phone.

Additionally, each building has a duty phone which is carried by a hall staff member each day from 8:00pm-8:00am.

Crisis or Concerns
If you have a concern or crisis, please contact your RA and RD/GRD immediately. They are trained to assist you or get you connected with the correct resource. Examples of crisis or concern can include but are not limited to roommate conflicts, health problems, severe stress, academic problems, homesickness, depression, suicide ideation or sexual assault. If unable to find a staff member, please call OUPD for emergencies at 740-593-1911.

Counseling and Psychological Services also has a counselor on call 24/7. To speak with a counselor, please call 740-593-1616. All calls are confidential.
Electrical Overloading

Residential Facilities vary in their electrical capacity limits. If you find that you’ve lost power in your room at any time, contact your RA or Facilities at 740-593-2911. Try to determine which appliance or piece of equipment is causing the overload, and redistribute some appliances to another circuit.

To prevent electrical fires, Housing and Residence Life prohibits the use of extension cords and outlet splitters, which plug directly into an outlet to create additional outlets. Only surge protectors with an attached cord and an on/off switch can be used to create multiple outlets.

Microfridges and window air conditioner must be plugged directly into separate wall outlets. They may not be plugged into the same outlet.

Emergencies

Ohio University has systems in place to respond to emergencies on campus. It is important that you pay close attention to your surroundings and be aware of the following emergency systems.

- Campus Alert System (siren and public announcement)
- Emergency Text Messaging (visit www.ohio.edu/emergency to sign-up)
- Emergency Web Page, www.ohio.edu/emergency

Flu Response

Flu viruses are spread mainly from person to person through coughing or sneezing by people with influenza. Sometimes people may become infected by touching something – such as a surface or object – with flu viruses on it and then touching their mouth or nose.

If you think you have the flu, visit Campus Care at Hudson Hall for assessment and treatment. You should stay home, away from class, and away from your friends, until your temperature is normal for 24 hours without the use of medication.

Severe cases which require immediate medical attention would show the following symptoms:
- Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath
- Pain or heavy pressure in your chest or abdomen
- Sudden dizziness or near fainting
- Passing out or loss of consciousness
- Confusion
- Severe or persistent vomiting
- Symptoms improve but then return with fever, increased sinus pressure, or worsening cough or shortness of breath

Meningitis

Bacterial meningitis is an acute bacterial disease.

Signs and symptoms of Bacterial Meningitis are sudden onset of fever, intense headache, nausea, and sometimes vomiting, stiff neck, sensitivity to light, and m also involve a rash that begins as clusters of small pricks and develops into purple bruising.
While the susceptibility to the clinical disease is low, bacterial meningitis can progress rapidly and have very serious and sometimes tragic health consequences. If you have any of these symptoms, please go to Campus Care immediately or call 911 for an ambulance to transport you to the emergency room.

For information regarding vaccinations, please contact Campus Care at Hudson Health Center at 740-593-1660.

Pest Control

In an effort to prevent widespread pest issues, please do not attempt to eradicate these issues on your own, including using your own bug spray. Keep food stored tightly and remove trash regularly to dumpsters. To report pest problems, complete the Pest Report Form at https://www.ohio.edu/riskandsafety/forms.htm which goes directly to Environmental Health & Safety (EHS) or call 740-593-1666. Additionally, notify your building RD/GRD of the pest issue.

Privacy

The university respects students’ right to privacy, however, a university official may enter a student room without permission under the following circumstances:

- During an emergency (e.g. fire alarm)
- To check on the well-being of a resident
- To inspect, maintain and renovate rooms
- To address a nuisance to the community

Note: Failing to respond to a reasonable request by a university official (such as being asked to open your door) will result in a conduct referral.

Room Inspections - Health & Safety Inspections

Every semester, your room will be inspected by the Housing and Residence Life staff to ensure that your room meets health and safety standards. Notification will occur to let you know when inspections will be scheduled.

During the inspections, your room, outlets, wall decorations, and general cleanliness will be assessed. Your personal items will not be searched. Any illegal or prohibited items found may be confiscated at this time. A fee of $25 may be assessed for confiscated items, along with conduct referrals for any alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct. Confiscated items may be claimed at the end of each semester from the appropriate Green Office.

Prohibited items that are commonly confiscated include the following.

- Candles
- Wax warmers (Scentsy, etc.)
- Hot plates, grills, etc.
- Extension cords, outlet splitters (creating more than one outlet from a single outlet)
- Empty alcohol bottles used for decoration
- Halogen, octopus, and lamps with exposed bulbs
- Multi-plug adapters, such as cube adapters, outlet splitters
Safety and Security Tips

- Never let someone into a residence hall if they do not have a key or do not live there. Holding the door may be polite but it can also lead to increased criminal activity or increased theft.
- Propping of exterior doors is equally dangerous and many doors are equipped with alarms to prevent them from being propped. It is okay to deny someone entry into your hall if they are not escorted by a fellow resident. Do not allow someone entry into your facilities unless they are accompanied by a fellow resident.
- Do not lend your room key to anyone.
- Report lost or stolen keys/ID’s immediately to in-hall staff, Green Office or OUPD.
- If the lock on your door is broken, call Facilities at (740) 593-2911.
- Carry your keys at all times and keep your room locked! The majority of thefts on campus are “crimes of opportunity” where items are left unattended and unsecured.
- All students who own a bike are encouraged to register it with OUPD. This is helpful, particularly for instances of theft.
- Lock your door while you are in your room, particularly when you’re not able to observe someone entering through an unlocked door such as when you take a nap or sleeping at night.
- In suites, work with your suitemate to insure that they, too, follow a reasonable security routine.
- To thwart identity thieves who may pick through your trash or piles of unread mail stacked in a corner, always shred or tear up items with personal information.
- Record the serial numbers on your valuable items and have valuables engraved with identifying information (e.g., computers, bicycles) should items be stolen, this aids in their return.
- All OU students and employees are required to carry their identification. It is your right to identify who may be requesting access to your room, and for what reason. If they refuse to show their ID card, note their physical characteristics and clothing and immediately call OUPD or 911.
- Help your friends! Be a good neighbor and immediately call OUPD if you observe suspicious persons or activity.

Severe Weather Alerts

Any type of watch means that the weather conditions are favorable for the formation of an extreme weather event. A warning is issued when a storm is imminent and/or a tornado has been spotted in the surrounding area. If a tornado warning has been issued and you are inside of a residence hall:

- Stay inside and move to the designed storm shelter – and stay away from outside walls and windows.
  - Note: do NOT go to the garage, a lobby area, or any other location with windows. Stay inside the stairwell to the garage, as this is the safest place.
- Close all room windows and doors and wait in an interior corridor/stairwell/room without windows.
- Crouch low with your hands covering the back of your head and neck.
- Do not use elevators.
- Do not leave the shelter area until after the storm is over.
- Remain as calm as possible.

This is the universities official response protocol. We ask that you do not leave the storm shelter until you are given the all clear to do so by a Housing and Residence Life staff member or another University official.
Services

Laundry
Residents have access to laundry facilities on each Green. Several halls have a few washers and dryers located in the hall for these residents, however not all of them support Bobcat Cash. A larger laundry facility is located on each Green that accepts Bobcat Cash. These centers are located below Dougan House on South Green, Gamertsfelder Hall on East Green, and Treudley Hall on West Green.

Lockouts
If you are locked out of your room, any Housing and Residence Life staff member in your building or complex can assist you. If you cannot find a RA, GRD or RD to assist you during the hours of 8:00AM-8:00PM, please contact your Green Office. During the hours of 8:00PM--8:00AM, contact your building/complex duty phone. Additionally, if you are locked out on a weekend day, call your building/complex duty phone.

Each student is given one free “lockout” per year during daytime hours. After that, each lockout cost will be charged to your student account for the following rate: 8:00AM-12:00AM ($5); 12:00AM-8:00AM ($10)

Lost Keys
If you lose your keys, you will need to stop by your green office to pick up temporary keys. After 8pm or on weekends, please find an RA to arrange for a temporary key. If you do not find your keys within a set period of time, you will be assessed $95.00 for the room key and $10.00 for the exterior key. The charge will be added to your student account. You are responsible for returning your keys when you move out of a building.

Failure to return keys will result in a replacement cost and the changing of the lock mechanism on your room, the cost of which is $95.00 for the room key and $10.00 for the exterior key.

Mail and Package Delivery
United States Post Office Mail is delivered to each residence hall, the South Green Mailroom in Mackinnon Hall services the Mod South buildings, and the Living Learning Center on South Green Mailroom serves Adams, Carr, Luchs, Sowle, and Tanaka Halls. Students must present their ID to pick up their packages. Students may pick up their packages from the building staff office during the designated office hours, 8:30pm-10:00pm daily. You can only sign for your own packages. The South Green Mailroom and the Living Learning Center on South Green Mailroom hours will be published at those locations.

Some private carriers (e.g., FedEx, UPS) deliver directly to your room and will require a signature in order to leave a package. It is recommended that you DO NOT sign for packages that are not your own, and that you contact the carrier and instruct them to not allow anyone but you to sign. By signing for someone else’s packages you have become liable for the item and the quality in which it was received. The university is not responsible for these packages and processes.

Maintenance Requests
Throughout the year you may notice that your room needs some basic maintenance (light bulb burnt out, window won’t shut, etc.). To submit a request, please visit the Facilities Maintenance Request website at https://www.ohio.edu/facilities/requests/. If the request is an emergency (water leak or flood), please call Facilities Management at 740-593-2911 and notify a Housing and Residence Life staff member.

Move In

Students must check into their building or complex in order to receive their keys. All residents are required to attend their Mandatory Opening Meetings during Move In weekend.

By signing your online Room Condition Report, you have agreed that you will leave your room in the condition in which it was received. Although the university understands that regular wear and tear will occur, you should immediately report any vandalism or damages to your RA, RD or GRD.

Move Out

When moving out of a room, students must officially check out with a staff member. This includes clearing the room of all personal items, wiping down furniture, and sweeping and cleaning the floors. Additionally, students must schedule a room inspection with a Housing and Residence Life staff member in order to review and sign their online RCR, and return all keys issued by Ohio University. RAs cannot determine if a student will be charged for damages within their room or the condition in which they check out in.

After your departure from your residence hall room, the room is assessed by your RD or GRD for damages and/or cleaning needs. This assessment is based on a personal, visual inspection of your room after you leave and the RCR that you completed and signed when you moved in and out of your room. Any bills for cleaning or damage will be added to your student account. Failure to follow these steps can result in an improper checkout and a charge of $50.00.

Room/Hall Changes

Housing and Residence Life permits students to change their room with the assistance of their RD, GRD, or ARD. Students must log on to their MyHousing Portal and click on Request a Room Change. It is recommended that students be as specific as possible in their reason for request, along with specifying a particular area of campus or building style that they prefer for their new space. Availability of vacancies cannot be guaranteed.

After a room change is approved, students can only check-in to the new room between the hours of 8:30PM-10:00PM on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday by going to the building/complex staff office. Once a student has checked into a room, they must be fully checked out of their old room by Sunday night of the same weekend. You are not to move without having the room change approved. Failure to gain this approval before moving will result in a cancellation of the move and/or a fine.

A room change freeze will be in effect Tuesday through Thursday of the opening of each semester. Students who are reassigned or make a room change to a different style of room will be credited or re-billed for the difference. Credits or re-billings are prorated on a daily basis. Additionally, a room change freeze will be in effect for approximately the last three weeks of each semester.

Room Consolidation

As part of the statewide energy conservation initiative and in order to renovate the residence halls across campus, one or more residence halls may be placed off line within a given year. Students will be given notice over the summer or at move-in if they will be affected by this policy. The following situations may occur:
Under-Assigned Rooms: You may experience a period of time without a roommate (if you reside in a double, triple, or quad). It is important to be aware of your options if you find yourself in this situation:

- You may select another roommate to fill the vacancy within your room, or the vacancy will be reassigned during the room change process;
- You may move out of your room and into another vacancy within your building;
- You may buy out the vacant space

If a student resides in room that is not at full capacity, they must keep that room “move-in ready.” This means that the room is adequately prepared for someone to move in at any given moment. This includes keeping all items off and away the desk, bed, and closet space. Housing and Residence Life staff will conduct regular checks to make sure that these spaces are open. Any space that is not deemed “move-in ready” may be subject to a fine and potential conduct referral.

Closure of a Residence Hall: Although rare, halls can be closed if they reach an insufficient capacity (50% or less occupancy). This decision is only made if there are enough vacancies across campus to provide housing for these students. Students affected by this closure will be given first choice of rooms during the room change process of the following semester.
Resident Expectations

Housing and Residence Life Community Standards
There are several other guidelines set forth by the Department of Housing and Residence Life, which include but are not limited to the content included in our housing contract, living learning community expectations and contracts, the Housing and Residence Life website and verbal and/or written instructions from University staff that are considered part of the Student Housing Handbook. The following policies listed below are not inclusive of all policies within the Student Code of Conduct, but rather focus on residential communities and expectations within the residence halls.

Office of Community Standards and Student Responsibility
The Office of Community Standards and Student Responsibility administers the Ohio University Student Code of Conduct and the processing of policy violations. The Student Code of Conduct emphasizes the university’s obligation to promote your personal freedom, maturity, and responsibility. Students are strongly encouraged to ask questions pertaining to the code of conduct if they encounter any uncertainty regarding university rules and regulations. Questions or concerns may be directed to Housing and Residence Life staff or the Office of Community Standards and Student Responsibility. As a student, you accept the responsibility to abide by all university rules and regulations. Smoking
Beginning August 1, 2015, OHIO has become a smoke and tobacco free campus. This new policy encourages a green and clean environment, prepares our students for other tobacco-free environments in their future, and can be a source of OHIO pride in supporting a major wellness initiative.

Additionally, vape pens are prohibited in the residence halls.

The physical location of a smoke and tobacco-free campus is defined as facilities, property and grounds used to carry out the mission of the university. This will also extend to sidewalks adjacent to university buildings and grounds in keeping with the city policy of property owners’ responsibility for sidewalks. Smoking and tobacco use in personal vehicles on university property will not be allowed.
