

Institute for the Empirical Study of Language

Application for Membership

The Institute for the Empirical Study of Language is a not-for-profit organization housed within Ohio University. Its purpose is to promote empirical research in the many forms of language use. New members are welcome. Admission to membership is based on appropriate training for conducting empirical research on language use and a stated commitment to being involved in the activities of the Institute.

Name _____

Address _____
_____

Phone number _____ FAX _____

Email _____

I wish to become a member of the Institute for the Empirical Study of Language and agree to be involved in the activities of the institute if admitted.

_____ date _____ signature

Please attach a curriculum vitae and a letter describing your research interests. Tell us which of your research interests you think are most relevant to the work of IESL. It may help to mention particular members of IESL with whom you share research interests. You can check member research activities at www.ohio.edu/iesl.

Please return these materials to Emilia Alonso-Marks, Director,
Institute for the Empirical Study of Language, Gordy 247,
Ohio University, Athens, OH 45701.