Facilitators:  Jennifer Brubaker, OMS1
John McCarthy, PhD, Associate Director of communication Sciences and Disorders

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title for Proposal</th>
<th>Interprofessionalism in Group Practice and Hospital Medicine</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Campus Location</td>
<td>Athens</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Behavioral Objectives: At the completion of this workshop participants will be able to:

- Objective #1: Differentiate between 10 non-physician roles within a group practice and within the hospital
- Objective #2: Compare and contrast interprofessional approaches in 2 different practice settings
- Objective #3: Gain familiarity with 3 reasons physicians can be poor leaders in professionally diverse settings

Abstract
The choice of hospital employment or private, group practice is an important part of a physician’s professional life. Each option involves vastly different opportunities and challenges for physicians and non-physicians alike. In this talk, two practice settings will be explored through the lens of the interprofessional team. The roles of potential non-physician providers in both settings will be reviewed, and interprofessional approaches between settings will be compared. Finally, attendees will be presented with challenges to physician leadership in each location, and how interprofessional skills are instrumental in strengthening team dynamics.

Word Limit: 150

Please indicate length of presentation (50 minutes or 2 hours)

 | 50m |