Add/Remove Modules on Course Home Page

The default page users see when first entering a Bb 9.1 course is the Home Page. This page is meant to be an overview of the current events in the course, such as Announcements and Due Dates. The page can also provide tools for student use, such as a Calculator or Dictionary. The following documentation describes how to add and remove modules on a course home page:

1. Login to Blackboard.
2. Click the Add Module button to see a list of modules from which to choose.
3. On the Add Module page, you can search for specific modules, browse by category, or browse all modules. Each entry lists the module’s name, a description, and the category to which it belongs. There is also a (More)... link that you can click to see a preview of the module as it will appear on your course home page.
4. To choose a module, simply click the Add button below the module’s name and description.
5. Once you click the Add button, there will be a short “Adding” message, then a Remove button will appear in place of the Add button.
6. Follow the same procedure for each module you wish to add to your course home page.
7. If you wish to remove a module at any point, you can simply click the Remove button.
8. When finished selecting modules, click OK at the bottom right of the window.

There are default modules, some of which cannot be removed from the home page, but others can easily be removed by the process described above or by clicking on the X in the gray circle in the top right corner of the module.
