Ohio University invites current 6th through 8th grade girls to participate in a free summer camp that will help them learn basic programming skills (games & applications). There will also be recreation activities! All participants will stay in designated OU residence hall and will be supervised by undergraduate students, faculty, and staff. This summer program is free but space is limited.

Please visit ohiocodingcamp.com for more info, or send an email to Coding-Academy@ohio.edu with questions. Selected students will be notified in Spring of 2018.
