

Healthcare Leadership Certificate

Become an outstanding leader in healthcare.

100% ONLINE

In the continually evolving healthcare industry, outstanding leadership is crucial to ensure communities get the best possible care. Ohio University's College of Health Sciences and Professions offers a graduate-level Healthcare Leadership Certificate designed to offer high-quality educational opportunities for working healthcare professionals. This certificate will help professionals become more effective leaders, improve quality and safety, enhance the patient experience, stimulate financial growth and further develop a robust organizational culture for employees.

While traditional master's programs also prepare leaders, there is a growing demand from physicians, nurses and others for a convenient alternative that allows them to be better prepared for the leadership roles they are assuming.

The Healthcare Leadership Certificate is 100% online and will help new and emerging leaders gain the knowledge and skills to expertly lead in a healthcare organization.
