

Diversity & Inclusion Study Abroad Advisor

The Diversity & Inclusion Study Abroad Advisor will learn and implement appreciative advising techniques to support students throughout the year, with the goal of providing valuable experience in the field of diversity and inclusion in international education and to increase underrepresented student engagement on global programs. This position assists the Office of Global Opportunities (OGO) and the Division of Diversity & Inclusion (DDI) with advising and recruiting potential study away participants by facilitating outreach, recruitment, retention, and overall success of underrepresented students in study abroad and away programs.

This position is appropriate for a student who has participated on a study abroad or away experience and is enthusiastic about sharing their experiences with others, while honing customer service, advising, and industry-specific skills related to international education as well as diversity and inclusion.
