

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
OFFICE OF GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES

Graphic Designer

The Graphic Designer plays a pivotal role in expanding the quality and variety of promotional services the Office of Global Opportunities (OGO) currently provides. This position will maintain and refine a cohesive and comprehensive print and digital design portfolio to market the more than 80 study abroad, study away, exchange and on-campus programs the OGO administers, which currently attract over 700 students annually.

Other related tasks will be assigned as appropriate and may include creation of program-specific promotional materials with a high degree of creative freedom.

This is an ideal opportunity for a graphic designer to work within an organization, assess and implement its design needs, while expanding their portfolio.
