

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
OFFICE OF GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES

Health, Safety and Risk Management Assistant

This Health, Safety and Risk Management position will play an important role in assisting the Office of Global Opportunities' health, safety and risk management protocol supporting OHIO students participating in off-campus study and activities. The student in this position will support the management of TravelTracker, an International SOS risk mitigation system. Additionally, the student will support incident monitoring, undertake country and location research, and participate in data collection, management and reporting.

This position is appropriate for a student, who would like to gain valuable and marketable skills in a field with growing career opportunities domestically and internationally, specifically in risk management and mitigation for institutions. Students in Global Studies, Communication, Business Administration, Public Health, or Economics may find this to be a good fit.
