The Department of Modern Languages has 2 Teaching Associate (TAs) positions in Spanish beginning in the upcoming fall of 2021-22. TAs are considered instructor of record and are responsible for teaching one section of SPAN 1110-1120.

The SPAN 1110-1120 series is a multi-section course overseen by the Language Program Director who designs curricula, assessment, and trains and supervises TAs. All TAs teaching SPAN 1110-1120 are provided a syllabus, a textbook, assessment materials, methodological guidance, an office with equipment, etc.

Overall responsibilities include:
- Teach one section of SPAN 1110 (approximately 25 students/section). SPAN 1110-1120 meets 4 times/week for 55 minutes.
- Hold 2 hours of student drop-in hours (office hours) per week.
- Grade assignments.
- Plan lessons in accordance to guidance received.
- Respond to emails from students.
- Attend SPAN 6920, a 1-hour weekly meeting for all TAs where issues pertaining teaching 1110-1120 are discussed and ideas are shared. (This class is 1 credit hour)
- Attend a pre-semester orientation.

Requirements:
- Demonstrated proficiency in Spanish. An interview will be conducted.

Not required but helpful:
- Teaching experience
- Leadership skills
- Demonstrated effective Spanish oral and written communication skills
- Graduate student in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Appointed TAs receive tuition waiver and a monthly stipend.

Questions regarding this position should be directed to partyka@ohio.edu and/or gallego@ohio.edu