The Graduate Writing and Research Center (GWRC) at Ohio University is an innovative learning space for graduate and undergraduate students who are working on major writing projects like theses, dissertations, journal articles, grants, and job search materials. We also offer research support by partnering with the University's subject librarians and providing tutoring in research methods and statistics.

Appointments can be made 10 days in advance either face-to-face or online. Learn more about the expertise of individual tutors here.

We also provide workshops, writing groups, thesis/dissertation tutoring, class presentations, and other related services to the Ohio University community. For information on TAD deadlines, formatting or submission, see the TAD website. If you would like a member of the GWRC staff to talk to your class about the GWRC's services or to teach your class about a writing-related issue (e.g. literature reviews), please complete the GWRC Presentation and Teaching Request Form and email to gwrc@ohio.edu. Both presentations and teaching are subject to staff availability.

The GWRC is directed by Dr. Talinn Phillips and is located in Alden 309. Contact us at gwrc@ohio.edu.
