Robert Paul Kirshner

Dr. Robert Paul Kirshner has made groundbreaking contributions in several areas of astronomy, including the physics of exploding stars seen as supernovae, supernova remnants, the large-scale structure of the cosmos, and the use of supernovae to measure the expansion of the universe. Dr. Kirshner is Clowes Professor of Science Emeritus at Harvard University and Chief Program Officer for Science at the Gordon & Betty Moore Foundation, where he leads a team responsible for distributing more than $100M per year for research and technology to enable fundamental scientific discoveries.

In his doctoral dissertation, Kirshner launched the field of distance determinations for supernovae based on spectroscopic measurements and physical models of exploding sources. He led the study of the nearest supernova in several millennia, Supernova 1987A in our neighbor galaxy, the Large Magellanic Cloud, using NASA's International Ultraviolet Explorer and Hubble Space Telescope. The results from this work have spurred major advances in our understanding of the evolution of massive stars. Kirshner was also part of a team that provided one of the first demonstrations in 1981 of large-scale inhomogeneity in the distribution of matter in the universe, manifesting itself as voids in the distribution of galaxies.

Kirshner was a leader in the effort to use supernovae to map the large-scale geometry of the universe, resulting in the discovery that the expansion of the universe is accelerating over time, driven by a mysterious dark energy that is now recognized as the dominant form of matter/energy in the universe. The discovery of cosmic acceleration was named by Science Magazine as the "Breakthrough of the Year" in 1998, and was recognized with the award of the 2011 Nobel Prize in Physics to three scientists, two of whom were Kirshner's former students. In his academic career, Kirshner held a postdoctoral appointment at Kitt Peak National Observatory and a faculty position at the University of Michigan before moving to Harvard University in 1985. He served as Chair of the Department of Astronomy from 1990-1997 and as Head of the Optical and Infrared Division of the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics from 1997-2003.
He is an author or co-author on more than 370 publications in the peer-reviewed literature, which have been cited over 49,000 times, with an h-index of 98. His 1998 paper, led by his former student Adam Riess, "Observational Evidence from Supernovae for an Accelerating Universe and a Cosmological Constant," Astronomical Journal 116: 1009–1038, has been cited more than 10,600 times. Kirshner published an account of the discovery of cosmic acceleration for a general audience in his 2002 book, The Extravagant Universe (Princeton University Press, 269 pp).

His research accomplishments have been recognized with Gruber Prize in Cosmology from Yale University, which honors a leading cosmologist, astronomer, astrophysicist or scientific philosopher for theoretical, analytical, conceptual or observational discoveries leading to fundamental advances in our understanding of the universe; the Dannie Heineman Prize from the American Institute of Physics, which recognizes outstanding publications in the field of mathematical physics; the James Craig Watson Medal from the National Academy of Sciences, which is awarded every two years for outstanding contributions to the science of astronomy; and the Wolf Prize in Physics. Between 1978 and 2010, 14 of the 26 Wolf Prizes winners have gone on to win the Nobel Prize, five of those in the following year.

Kirshner has served on numerous advisory panels for NASA and the National Science Foundation that have been influential in shaping national strategy for investments to advance the field of astronomy and astrophysics. From 2004–2006 he served as President of the American Astronomical Society, the national association of professionals working in astronomy and astrophysics, with a membership of more than 6000.

Kirshner is known as an outstanding educator and mentor for students and postdocs. He has supervised 19 doctoral students, two of whom received the Nobel Prize in Physics. He is a frequent public lecturer, with talks including a Frontiers in Science lecture at Ohio University in 2002. He also served as an informal mentor for Ohio University faculty member Ryan Chornock while Chornock was a postdoc at Harvard, and has collaborated with Joseph Shields. Kirshner and Chornock are co-authors on 50 articles in the peer-reviewed literature, while Kirshner and Shields are co-authors on 3 publications. In addition, Kirshner led the development of the 2.4-meter Hiltner Telescope, the primary research instrument at the MDM Observatory at Kitt Peak, Arizona. Ohio University joined the MDM Observatory as a partner in 2005 and our students and faculty use this facility for teaching and research.

Robert Kirshner's career provides a demonstration of the importance of mentoring students at all stages of their development, and of the power of curiosity-driven research to change our view of humanity's relationship to nature. Both ideas are foundational to Ohio University's vision as an institution committed to transformational learning. Kirshner's influence is felt today at Ohio University through his intellectual contributions, his association with our faculty, and his role in establishing the MDM Observatory as a major facility for research and teaching.
For his accomplishments, he is exceptionally qualified to receive an honorary degree from Ohio University.
HONORARY DEGREE AWARD

RESOLUTION 2018 – 3704

WHEREAS, the University Committee on Honorary Degrees has recommended that Ohio University honor the person listed below through the conferral of an honorary degree,

Sir Venkatraman “Venki” Ramakrishnan, Honorary Doctor of Science

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees of Ohio University approves the degree recommended be conferred at an appropriate time in the future.

Sir Venkatraman “Venki” Ramakrishnan

In 2009, Sir Ramakrishnan was awarded the Nobel Prize in Chemistry along with Thomas A. Steitz and Ada Yonath for his work on the atomic structure and function of the ribosome. In 2010, Sir Ramakrishnan received India's second highest civilian honor, the Padma Vibhushan, and in 2012, Sir Ramakrishnan was knighted for his services to Molecular Biology.

Sir Ramakrishnan was awarded a Ph.D. in Physics from Ohio University in 1976. Sir Ramakrishnan reflects the global mission of Ohio University and how valuable this orientation is to the furtherance of the leadership of the United States in science and innovation. Sir Ramakrishnan is one of the few American educated Nobel laureates to hail from outside the Ivy League schools. It is no coincidence that Ohio University is one of the few mid-sized state institutions that can claim an alumnus of such impressive achievement and global recognition in their field.

Honoring Sir Ramakrishnan places focus on the importance of the value of a global orientation, which Ohio University embraces. Recognizing Sir Ramakrishnan with an honorary degree allows Ohio University to show the value of a welcoming, open, and global perspective. It also affirms the importance of Ohio University’s continued efforts to attract the best students from across the globe and offer opportunity and space for international students to innovate, with outcomes of immeasurable importance to society.

For his accomplishments, he is exceptionally qualified to receive an honorary degree from Ohio University.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the listed leaves be approved.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Executive Vice President and Provost may approve changes in the conditions of the fellowships, but not the total number of fellowships granted for the academic year.

Conferred as a Mark of Esteem by the President and the Board of Trustees of Ohio University.
Secretary Moore announced that the next meeting of the Ohio University Board of Trustees would be on August 21st and 22nd 2018 on the Dublin OH campus.

The June 2018 Meeting of the Ohio University Board of Trustees adjourned at 1:02pm.
Committee Chair Cary Cooper called the meeting to order at 10:15 a.m.

President Duane Nellis introduced OHIO’s incoming Executive Vice President and Provost, Dr. Chaden Djalali, who will begin his role later in the summer; and Dr. Gigi Secuban, newly hired as OHIO’s first Vice President for Diversity and Inclusion. Committee Chair Cooper also invited self-introductions by two new members of the committee: Dr. Sara Helfrich, who is a Faculty Representative, Vice Chair of the Faculty Senate, and member of the University Curriculum Council; and Mr. Austin McClain, Student Trustee.

Office of Instructional Innovation Dashboard

Interim EVPP Sayrs introduced Brad Cohen, Senior Vice Provost for Instructional Innovation. SVP Cohen presented the dashboard for the Office of Instructional Innovation (refer to Tab 4 of June, 2018 agenda).

During discussion of the Textbook Initiative, OII’s collaborative effort with the Libraries and Office of Information Technology, Chair Scholl noted that the savings reported from the Top Hat Partnership alone amounted to approximately $76 per impacted student. He remarked that this is a nontrivial amount, and he noted that it offsets the impact of the new career-service fee.

Trustee Pidwell asked whether OHIO will ever be able to offer a fully online 4-year degree, and what obstacles there are to achieving it now. SVP Cohen replied that there is not a barrier to doing so, and that the infrastructure is in place to do it. He noted that it is worth considering whether OHIO should do so; there is great value in the residential experience for undergraduate students, and some skills are difficult to develop fully without significant in-person interaction. He added that a fully online undergraduate degree program might undercut the value proposition of OHIO’s residential offerings. SVP Cohen added that the focus of online undergraduate courses and programs has been on helping students with degree completion.
Chair Cooper asked whether OHIO’s online offerings will be available in future to international students. While noting that this capability exists now, at least in areas served by adequate infrastructure, SVP Cohen noted that many institutions, including OHIO, are looking at online international students as a potential market. He added that some graduate programs are already moving in this direction.

Trustee Goodman inquired whether OHIO’s online offerings require a face-to-face component. SVP Cohen responded that many courses and programs are hybrid in nature, citing the College of Business’ offerings as examples. He also noted, however, that not all online offerings have that requirement; the goals of a program must drive the choice of modality or modalities. He further added that face-to-face interaction does not necessarily have to take place on an OHIO campus. For instance, students and faculty could convene at a community space such as a national park.

Trustee Goodman noted that the increase in online learning impacts considerations about budgets and, ultimately, what we want our university to be. SVP Cohen replied that currently OHIO’s online offerings are serving different populations than the traditional residential undergraduate student.

Trustee Scholl noted that traditionally, OHIO has differentiated itself from other residential universities through the beauty of its campus, personal connections with enthusiastic alumni, etc. He asked how institutions differentiate themselves in the online environment, when students may never see the campus and can take courses from anywhere in the world. SVP Cohen replied that the quality of the learning experience, and particularly of the faculty, constitutes the value proposition to online learners; investment in instructional designers is also strategically important, in order to help develop courses and programs that are distinctive in quality. Trustee Scholl expressed appreciation for the recognition of the faculty role, and added that networking connections can also be valuable to students after completing a high-quality program.

Trustee Casciani asked whether OHIO provides training for instructors in teaching online. SVP Cohen responded that OII does offer this training, and it has proven popular. He added that making such training mandatory for all instructors would probably not be well-received, but that those who pursue the training find it very valuable.

Trustee Scholl asked whether OHIO’s strong strategic enrollment initiatives are matched by our capacity to expand online learning offerings. SVP Cohen responded that he and Craig Cornell, Senior Vice Provost for Strategic Enrollment Management, work very closely together for this reason, and that OII is moving quickly to scale up capacity.

Trustee Coleman asked about gaps in the accessibility of online learning for all populations, in terms of infrastructure and the ability to adapt to the online environment. SVP Cohen said accessibility is uneven. He noted that realistically, online learning may not be the best choice for everyone; however, added that OII is working to help new students understand what it requires and ultimately to succeed. He added that while infrastructure is an issue, there are public facilities across the state that students can use, particularly in libraries.
Committee Chair Cooper asked what services being purchased from external partners are things that the university cannot do for itself. SVP Cohen responded that these partners help do things that are difficult for OHIO to do; in particular he noted that providers such as Pearson make large up-front investments in program development without any guarantee of a return, which takes a lot of risk off OHIO. He also said they have expertise in raising our programs’ visibility in online searches, which is a vital marketing tool. SVP Cohen then noted that OII is gradually growing internal capacity that will make us less reliant on such assistance, and that they are currently launching some new programs without external partners, as well as getting more involved in search.

Committee Chair Cooper asked whether the Ohio Department of Education is moving to ensure that future educators will learn how to teach online. IEVPP Sayrs said she was not aware of any movement in that specific area. She added that such a move would not affect college faculty, since ODE does not have responsibility for training faculty. She also said that many institutions do not formally provide their graduate students who aspire to become faculty with any training in instructional techniques at all; she said the Center for Teaching and Learning plays a vital role in filling this need at OHIO.

Standing Reports and Updates

Preliminary Summer Enrollment Update

Craig Cornell, Senior Vice Provost for Strategic Enrollment Management, provided an update on summer enrollments (refer to Tab 5 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Consent Resolutions: Honorary Degrees

IEVPP Sayrs introduced the consent resolutions to confer honorary degrees on Robert Paul Kirshner (refer to Tab 6 of the June, 2018 agenda) and Sir Venkatraman Ramakrishnan (refer to Tab 7 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Committee Chair Cooper commented that Dr. Ramakrishnan is currently president of the Royal Society of London, the world’s oldest independent scientific academy, joining a very long history of distinguished members including Albert Einstein and Isaac Newton.

Trustee Goodman moved, and Trustee Scholl seconded, to include both resolutions on the consent agenda. The motion passed unanimously.

Certificate Programs Approved 2017 – 2018

IEVPP Sayrs presented a list of 18 certificate programs that were approved through the Programs Committee of University Curriculum Council in 2017 – 2018 (refer to Tab 8 of the June, 2018 agenda). She noted that the vast majority are new graduate certificates, many part of the trend toward stackable degrees.

There were no questions about the approved certificate programs.

Promotion and Tenure
IEVPP Sayrs presented a list of the recommendations for promotion and tenure for 49 Group I and 18 Group II faculty members (refer to Tab 9 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Trustee Goodman asked whether the individuals recommended for professor already have tenure. IEVPP Sayrs responded that the vast majority of tenure-track faculty are considered for tenure and promotion to associate professor at same time, and that the vast majority who go up for promotion to full professor already have tenure. She noted that in rare cases someone will come to the university already having sufficient credentials for associate or full professor rank, but they will undergo a “trial period” of a few years before receiving tenure here. In the case of the individual noted by Trustee Goodman, she said this was an artifact of an earlier time when votes for tenure and promotion were done separately. She added that for the purposes of summary faculty data such as dashboards, the Group I category includes all individuals who are either tenured or on the tenure track.

Consent Resolution: Faculty Fellowship Awards

IEVPP Sayrs presented a list of faculty fellowship leaves approved by the academic and university leadership for the coming year (refer to Tab 10 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Trustee Goodman moved, and Trustee Scholl seconded, to include the resolution on the consent agenda. The motion passed unanimously.

Consent Resolution: Emerita / Emeritus Recommendations

IEVPP ES presented a list of 32 faculty members who have been nominated for emeriti status upon their retirement (refer to Tab 11 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Committee Member Goodman moved, and Trustee Scholl seconded, to include the resolution on the consent agenda. The motion passed unanimously.

Consent Resolution, Regional Coordinating Council Appointments

IEVPP Sayrs presented a list of individuals appointed to membership on the Coordinating Council at each of OHIO’s regional campuses (refer to Tab 12 of the June, 2018 agenda). Secretary Moore stated that because one person on list has since taken a new job and must be replaced, approval of this roster needs to be removed from the committee’s consent agenda and introduced as a separate resolution for the full Board on the following day.

Trustee Goodman moved, and Trustee Coleman seconded, to remove the list from the committee’s consent agenda. The motion passed unanimously.

Trustee Goodman motioned for the Resolution to be introduced as an independent resolution. Trustee Coleman seconded and the motion was passed unanimously.
In reference to the awarding of emeriti status, Trustee Scholl remarked that these conferrals are a premier career achievement for faculty and a way OHIO honors their scholarly dedication and achievements. He said that the fact that the committee did not spend much time discussing them should not be taken as a lack of enthusiasm or a lack of recognition that emeriti status is a well-deserved honor. Other trustees and senior leadership agreed.

Trustee Goodman said that he also appreciated the opportunity to read about the faculty fellowships and see the interesting work our faculty members are doing. IEVPP Sayrs agreed and said it was fascinating to review the applications for this year’s fellowships.

Academic Quality—Initiatives

Student Affairs Strategic Plan

Jason Pina, Vice President for Student Affairs, and Jenny Hall-Jones, Associate Vice President and Dean of Students, updated the committee on the Student Affairs Strategic Plan and the process of developing it (refer to Tab 13 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Trustee Goodman asked how the learning outcomes and competencies identified in the plan would be measured. IEVPP Sayrs responded that these co-curricular outcomes are overseen through a different process than that for academic outcomes, although the overseeing committees work closely together. AVP Hall-Jones added that the process will be piloted with the student staff in Student Affairs first, and later scaled up to all students as feasible; she emphasized that it will all be outside the classroom and not involve academic activity.

Trustee McClain commented on the importance of co-curricular activities in enriching the OHIO experience. He thanked the presenters for the work Student Affairs is doing to support and elevate learning outside the classroom.

Trustee Scholl noted that the learning-outcome “badges” proposed in the plan seem like career development that would be valuable for every OHIO student. He asked whether the badge structure would be implemented in a way that all students could benefit and not just Student Affairs student employees. VPSA Pina replied that grant funds are supporting some initial implementation, and the new career-service fee will help scale the effort up. IEVPP Sayrs added that the new Honors Program has pathways that marry the classroom with external experiences, and this could already be considered another kind of pilot of the concept.

Trustee Casciani asked whether Student Affairs had delved into data on why students leave—are the reasons mostly academic or financial, and at what points are they leaving? AVP Hall-Jones responded that the in-depth work on retention questions such as these is just beginning, and they are about to look closely at OHIO’s retention data. IEVPP Sayrs noted that in general, research on college students who drop out in their first year typically finds the reasons are usually not primarily academic but are actually more closely related to the lack of a sense of belonging and integration.
Trustee Coleman asked how the Strategic Plan will apply to regular SA employees, not just students. VPSA Pina replied that the unit will be reviewing job descriptions for all SA employees and revising where necessary to integrate cultural competencies and skills into the descriptions; professional development around equity and social justice will also be fostered by each department.

Trustee Pidwell asked about the level of SA’s involvement in not just retaining but also recruiting students to OHIO. VPSA Pina responded that SA’s efforts broadly help differentiate OHIO for the purposes of marketing and recruiting. Examples include the quality of the dining, housing and campus experience. He added that SA has been pursuing some national awards to raise awareness of OHIO as a national leader; these awards are tools the university can showcase in marketing materials. Also, he said that implementing and assessing the impact of the Strategic Plan will provide valuable data that can not only be used within the university but also promoted in recruiting.

Trustee Casciani said that some European universities grade by pass/fail in an undergraduate student’s first two years as a measure to reduce discouragement and boost retention; he asked if OHIO has considered such a policy. IEVPP Sayrs responded that the university offers students this option for individual courses rather than as a default, and she did not know of any other U.S. institutions that have such a policy.

Trustee Voinovich noted that because retention factors into an institution’s national ranking rankings, improving retention rates also indirectly supports recruiting. She expressed appreciation for the work being done within OHIO by Loralyn Taylor, director of analytics for University Student Success Initiatives, to support and evaluate retention efforts. IEVPP Sayrs agreed, while adding that retention rates vary across student subgroups, and more work is needed to eliminate these disparities.

Committee Chair Cooper asked whether Student Affairs will be working with the new Vice President for Diversity & Inclusion to pursue the social-justice objective of the Strategic Plan; he also asked whether the plan included a definition of the term “social justice.” VPSA Pina answered that per President Nellis’s priorities, SA would be collaborating on the broad area of diversity and inclusion with the new VPDl, Dr. Gigi Secuban. He emphasized two aspects of the social-justice objective: a personal goal for everyone in the unit (e.g., someone decides to learn more about accessibility), and a departmental-level goal (e.g., an office deciding to broaden outreach in order to diversify the population of students using its services).

Trustee Scholl commended the strategic planning effort and asked whether a second phase will address the regional campuses. AVP Hall-Jones responded that while it may seem that the Strategic Plan is Athens-focused, they intend references to “all students” to include the regional-campus students as well.

Academic Quality Highlight: Digital Inking and Video Engagement
Marty Tuck, Dean of the Chillicothe campus, introduced Associate Professor Mike LaFreniere to deliver a presentation on how he uses computer-mediated communication, including digital inking and video engagement, to help gauge the level of his students’ conceptual understanding of course material (refer to Tab 14 of the June, 2018 agenda).

Trustee Viehweger commented that she has seen from her son’s learning experience that the rapid feedback enabled by technologies such as these is tremendously helpful to the learner.

President Nellis asked if students can be divided into subgroups for group work. Dr. LaFreniere replied that they can, by any key characteristic such as major; this capacity facilitates differentiated instruction.

Trustee Scholl asked how many students Dr. Lafreniere has in his classes and where they are located. Dr. Lafreniere responded that he usually has 100–120 in his math classes, and often has 10–20 in his engineering classes. He added that they are from all over the world. Trustee Scholl asked how they find his classes, and Dr. Lafreniere replied that they typically find them in online course lists.

Trustee Teplitzky asked what strategies Dr. Lafreniere used to foster engagement with his distance students. Dr. Lafreniere answered that it takes a great deal of effort. He said he makes himself available through multiple means including email, text and phone, and that he looks for ways to personalize his interactions by, e.g., learning how they like to be addressed or what their hobbies are. He also noted, however, that many of his younger students actually seem to prefer less personal interaction.

Trustee Viehweger asked how effective this mode of learning was for different types of students. Dr. Lafreniere answered that he does not start with any assumptions of differences; he said he makes every effort to meet all of his students where they are and help them overcome challenges and anxieties to achieve success.

Start to Finish (SSTF) Program Update

IEVPP Sayrs updated the committee on OHIO’s participation in a multi-institutional partnership with the Ohio Department of Higher Education to implement a $2.1 million federal Strong Start to Finish grant (refer to Tab 15 of the June, 2018 agenda). She said the purpose of this grant is to support college completion while also addressing attainment gaps for historically underserved populations. She noted that Ohio’s was one of only four grants awarded nationwide in a highly competitive process. A statewide kickoff meeting was held May 2; the next statewide event will be a networking conference in October.

Trustee Scholl asked whether OHIO was the only four-year institution in the state’s partnership. IEVPP Sayrs replied that there are 11 other 4-year institutions, as well as 18 community colleges, participating in Ohio’s grant.

Consent Resolution: Submittal of Completion Plan Update 2018
IEVPP Sayrs introduced a consent resolution to adopt the Ohio University Completion Plan Update 2018 (refer to Tab 16 of June, 2018 agenda). She noted that the original plan was submitted to the Ohio Board of Regents in 2014, and that the enabling state legislation requires updates be submitted at least every two years. The first update was submitted in 2016.

Trustee Scholl moved, and Trustee Coleman seconded, that the committee move the resolution to the consent agenda for action by the full Board. The motion passed unanimously.

Commercialization Pathway Policy

IEVPP Sayrs informed the Committee that in accordance with Ohio Revised Code 3345.45-C1/2, OHIO’s Faculty Senate has approved the adoption of a university-level pathway that includes commercialization as a consideration for faculty promotion and tenure decisions (refer to Tab 17 of the June, 2018 agenda). The new pathway has been incorporated into OHIO’s Faculty Handbook.

Regional Compacts

IEVPP Sayrs said that in accordance with Ohio Revised Code Section 3345.59, OHIO has entered into a regional compact to increase access, affordability, and efficiencies among public colleges and universities (refer to Tab 18 of the June, 2018 agenda). The other Southeast Ohio regional partners include Belmont College, Eastern Gateway Community College, Hocking College, Rio Grande Community College, Washington State Community College, Zane State College, and Shawnee State University.

Committee Chair Cooper asked whether an agreement has been finalized. President Nellis replied that the written agreement included in the agenda materials has been signed by all but one partner institution, and the final signature should be in place by the June 30 deadline. He added that OHIO, as one of the two universities in the partnership, is a co-leader of the compact along with one of the community colleges.

Trustee Scholl asked whether the compact involves meeting a required dollar amount for efficiencies. IEVPP Sayrs responded that it does not.

Consent Resolutions, New Programs

IEVPP Sayrs introduced consent resolutions for the adoption of four new programs and name changes for three existing program.

New programs:

- Master of Science in Nursing – Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner track
- Master of Science in Management
- Bachelor of Applied Human and Consumer Sciences degree in Human Services
• Interdisciplinary Arts Bachelor of Fine Arts

Name changes:

• Nurse Administrator program: change to Nurse Leader program
• Master of Science in Business Analytics: change to Master of Business Analytics
• Dept. of Mgt. Information Systems: change to Dept. of Analytics and Information Systems

Having no questions about the new programs or name changes, the committee took action on all of them as one. Trustee Goodman moved, and Trustee Coleman seconded, to keep all of the consent resolutions to the consent agenda for action by the full Board. The motion passed unanimously.

Consent Resolution: Program Reviews

IEVPP Sayrs presented consent resolutions for the acceptance of six program reviews, for the following programs:

College of Arts and Sciences

• Economics
• Geological Sciences
• Sociology and Anthropology
• Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies

University College

• Criminal Justice
• Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC)

There were no questions about any of the program reviews.

Trustee Goodman moved, and Trustee Coleman seconded, to keep all six resolutions on the consent agenda for action by the full Board of Trustees. The motion passed unanimously.

There being no further business, Committee Chair Cooper adjourned the meeting at 12:35 pm.
Present: Audit and Risk Management Committee Chair Diane Smullen; Trustees Steve Casciani, Peggy Viehweger; National Trustee David Pidwell; Student Trustee Faith Voinovich and President Duane Nellis.

Audit and Risk Management Committee Chair Smullen called the meeting to order at 5:16 p.m.

FY 2018 External Audit Update

Chief Audit Executive Jeff Davis provided the Audit Committee with an update on the status of the FY18 audit. Plante Moran was unable to attend the meeting. There were no audit results to report as a result of their interim audit work. The audit is progressing as expected and they will be back on campus to complete the audit prior to the October 15th deadline.

FY18 Audit Plan Status

Jeff Davis, Chief Audit Executive summarized the FY18 audit plan completion. The audit of Health Sciences and Professions was recently completed and the report issued. The audits for Arts and Sciences and University Advancement have also been completed with the final reports to be issued in the next few weeks. The audit of the Campus Involvement Center and Research have been started.

FY19 Audit Plan Resolution

Mr. Davis discussed the proposed FY19 audit plan. The plan includes six audits. Trustee Dave Scholl made a motion to approve a resolution accepting the annual audit plan. The motion was seconded by Trustee Peggy Viehweger. Vote was unanimous. Mr. Davis also discussed additional audit activity that will take place in FY19. Board Chair Dave Scholl asked if the staff size was adequate. Mr. Davis replied that based on benchmarking of peer universities in the state, the staff size is comparable.

Cash Collections Update

Jeff Davis, Chief Audit Executive, presented a cash collections update. Cash collections have been discussed in prior committee meetings and updates requested by the committee. Ms. Deb Shaffer, the VP for Finance and Administration, has established a cash committee to review University cash collection procedures. The committee has met several times since January 2018 to discuss cash collections. National Trustee David
Pidwell added that we should continue to move towards a cashless campus as a matter of policy.

GLBA

Mr. Davis provided information on the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA). GLBA requires higher education institutions to safeguard sensitive information. The safeguard rule isn’t currently tested as part of the federal compliance audit performed by our external auditor, Plante Moran. We expect this to be included beginning with the FY19 audit. Ohio University will be required to designate an Information Security Officer, assess risks to confidential information, implement a security program, oversee vendor relationships and perform an ongoing evaluation of the security program. Board Chair Scholl asked whether GLBA was cyber security focused. Chief Information Officer Craig Bantz responded affirmatively and stated that IT is working on implementing NIST controls to address GLBA, as well as PCI, HIPAA, etc.

Summary of the Audit Process

Mr. Davis provided a brief summary of the audit process because there are new members of the audit committee.

Audit Committee and Internal Audit Charters

Mr. Davis briefly discussed the two charters that govern the internal audit operation. They are the Audit Committee Charter and the Internal Audit Charter. Mr. Davis will bring a resolution to the committee in August to formally change the committee name in the charter to Audit and Risk Management Committee.

Unresolved Recommendations

Mr. Davis provided the committee with an update on the process related to tracking recommendations issued by Internal Audit and the current status of recommendations.

Other Questions/Comments

President Nellis inquired about the season ticket tax changes to ensure that was being addressed. Mr. Davis stated that the Foundation office is aware of the changes and addressing it. President Nellis also inquire about research servers and how that information is protected. CIO Craig Bantz and Senior Auditor Bruce Tong addressed his concerns.

Alumni Representative Teplitzky asked whether University employees sign confidentiality agreements. His question was in light of the Federal Trade Secrets Act and required whistle blowing language. Mr. Davis stated that his office and some areas in research signed confidentiality statements however they were not widely used across the University.
Board Chair Scholl inquired about Enterprise Risk Management processes. Mr. Davis provided a history of the Risk Council and previous heat maps. Mr. Davis will share the most recent map with the committee. Board Chair Scholl and Trustee Cooper both felt that it was very important for that process to get started back up.

There was no unfinished business.
Audit Committee Chair Smullen adjourned the Audit Committee meeting at 5:59 pm.

Resolution, FY19 University Budget

Vice President for Finance and Administration Deb Shaffer reminded the Trustees that the annual budget process spans the academic year and involves input from and consultation with each facet of the University’s shared governance model. Many of the planning assumptions and details reviewed with the Trustees at both their March meeting and the May 14 retreat are unchanged. VP Shaffer reviewed the major revenue and expenditure categories, trend lines over the recent past, and the drivers and assumptions that led to the FY19 budgeting for those categories, highlights of which follow:

- State appropriations (SSI) are primarily driven by course and degree completions; the statewide appropriation to universities has remained flat. The FY19 budget assumes a slight growth in SSI due to the new cohort of medical students on the Dublin and Cleveland campuses.

- Following the May 1 admissions deadline, our projected Fall 2018 Athens freshmen class is 3,971, which is less than the planning assumption of 4,144 the colleges used to develop their FY19 Budget, and less than the Fall 2017 class of 4,045.
  - The FY19 operating budget presented reflects the use of $1.3M from the Strategic Opportunity Reserve (SOR) to offset the projected net tuition revenue loss attributed to the enrollment shortfall. This $1.3M loss is inclusive of changes to financial aid and the mix of resident/non-resident students.

Other enrollment and tuition highlights include:

- eLearning, Graduate and HCOM enrollments are trending as planned
Tuition discount rates have shown increase over the past several years with more aid budgeted and awarded annually; however, our rate, projected to be 24.6% for FY19, is still among the lowest in the state.

VP Shaffer made a point of noting that while the FY19 budget to be approved reflects the lower enrollments of 3,971, the multi-year budget planning for FY20-FY22 is still based on 4,144 new freshmen enrollments.

- Planning for future enrollments and financial aid will be important discussion topics on campus and for the board throughout FY19 – determining the ‘right’ number of students for future budgeting.

Compensation includes a 1.5% raise pool for FY19; following 0% raise pool in FY18, the FY19 raise pool was deemed a funding priority to attract and retain talent.

- In accordance with the 2011 DOE resolution agreement the 2017 biennial equity review was conducted; the next biennial equity review planning and RFP issuance will commence in the coming months.

Benefits increases follow the guiding principles to hold the university share of annual health care increases to 5% and avoid incurrence of the ‘cadillac tax’ outlined in the ACA.

- Past favorable health benefit experience has allowed use of excess reserves for FY19 to offset 50% of the University’s 5% share of the budgeted cost increases.

- The favorable experience is being analyzed as to how it correlates to the University’s wellness initiatives and whether future experience projections could be revised downward / favorably.

Strategic Opportunity Reserve (SOR) – the reserve is supported by earmarked funding streams and used for strategic initiatives and as a buffer against in-year variability; funds are not to be spent before earned.

- The recent past usage of SOR has included some bridge funding to operating units allowing time for new revenue / cost reduction plans to be realized; the other actual and planned uses have been to SOR’s strategic purpose; e.g. funding for President Nellis’ Presidential Priority & Strategic Pathways is a SOR set aside.

- VP Shaffer specifically mentioned the Muskingham Recreation Center (MRC) line item in the SOR and provided some background on the current status of the MRC and its inclusion on the SOR.

  - The original four member deal structure was put in place based on a forecasted profitable business model; that initial business model has been impacted by new competition; loan guaranties backed by Ohio University are in jeopardy of being triggered which has resulted in the SOR allocations for FY18-21; the investment of SOR funding is seen as an avenue to return the center to profitability.

  - Restructuring MRC governance and placing the University as the sole member is being recommended to protect the University’s investment through ensuring the entity’s continued viability.
• The University is proposing to engage a management services partner to focus on family programming and to leverage and incorporate our academic programs to engage in community research, rural health and wellness initiatives, and provide internship opportunities
• A resolution to enter into the an agreement and establish an affiliated entity will be presented at the conclusion of the Budget presentation

• Administrative and Academic targets to close the FY19 budget gap included the 2nd year of the FY18-FY20 Administrative restructuring plan; that plan results in an overall 3-year, 5.2% reduction in Administrative budgets (7% excluding Information Technology and Diversity and Inclusion)
  o Academic unit reduction targets were established by the EVPP and Deans to achieve an overall 5.2% reduction of total academic budgets
  ▪ Faculty Senate had passed a resolution requesting leadership to impact academic units in the same proportion; the basis for the 5.2% target
  ▪ Individual college and unit reductions were based on evaluations of college strategic plans and impacts on student success, academic quality and growth opportunities

• Future Outlook FY19-FY22
  o FY19’s $17.0M use of reserves to arrive at a balanced budget includes $7.1M to the Athens Colleges and Schools as a bridge as plans for reductions in expense or growth in revenues are executed and realized; all revenue growth plans must be measurable and will be used to evaluate success of the initiatives and colleges will be accountable to report progress to the Provost
  o Use of the SOR to fund the structural challenges of RHE and the Athens campus enrollment issues will be a continuing conversation – some of the projected needs may be ‘solved’ by the conservative budgeting that continues to result in annual net surpluses which bolster reserves. Management will monitor forecasts and take appropriate actions to continue progress toward a sustainable financial future

• VP Shaffer indicated that the University is in a healthy balance sheet position with its current reserve levels and assured the board that the reserves and impacts of funding, debt levels and operations are evaluated as part of the annual and long-term planning

Trustee Scholl made a motion to recommend approval of the FY19 University Budget Approval resolution to the full board; Trustee Coleman provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

VP Shaffer shared minor FY19 tuition and fee adjustments to those previously approved by the board:
• 1 program was excluded from the RHE Guarantee based on ODHE criteria
• 2 changes to the RHE tuition fee table due to simple math errors
• $1-$3/credit hour fee differences to the HCOM fee tables due to credit hour rate compounding

General Counsel John Biancamano shared a draft version of an MRC resolution authorizing changes to the center’s governance structure to enhance its long-term financial viability while enabling the University to expand its teaching, research and service activities to the region. VP Shaffer indicated that this restructuring will involve negotiation with the other three members as well as the lending parties and it is hoped that the new structure can be substantially agreed to by the August Trustee meeting.

Trustee Scholl made a motion to recommend approval of the Muskingham Recreation Center resolution to the full board; Trustee Coleman provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

Resolution, FY19 Fees Approval

No further discussion.

Trustee Casciani made a motion to recommend approval of the FY19 Other Fees Approval resolution, including Exhibits A, to the full board; Trustee Coleman provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

FY19 Annual Capital Improvement Plan (CIP)

VP Shaffer introduced the FY19 CIP discussion and indicated that a stand-alone FY19 CIP is not being brought forward for approval at this time. The FY19 framework was approved by the Board as part of the FY19-FY24 Six-Year CIP, but leadership is still analyzing the FY19 capital needs, funding and debt impacts. Associate Vice President University Planning Shawna Bolin discussed the planning processes that have led to the plan currently being reviewed.

Projects are being prioritized based on current funding availability and other factors arising from in depth study results and operating budgets. The College of Fine Arts (CoFA) study has identified additional capital funding needs to be prioritized within the university CIP. The five core CoFA buildings present significant challenges and are among the most aged. A strategy for investment in ‘must-do’ projects has been developed and is resulting in reprioritization of CoFA projects to more current capital plans.

VP Shaffer shared the plan to use internal labor for painting and masonry work across campus to manage and attack significant deferred maintenance in those areas. A resolution is included with the materials for Board approval of the use of Century Bond funds to fund two painters and two masons and cover all respective project cost for the identified deferred and preventative maintenance projects.

AVP Bolin summarized the impact of the current capital planning analysis on projects being cancelled, postponed, accelerated or changed in some way. As previously stated, an FY19 CIP is not being presented for approval, but each project planned to move forward in FY19 was part of the FY19-FY24 Six-Year plan previously approved. Metrics related to project impacts on deferred maintenance (DM) backlog are being quantified and tracked to show the improvements in DM / gross square foot.

VP Shaffer reviewed the current debt portfolio and the schedule of future debt service. The cash flows being analyzed consider past year results, future year projections, the impact of the capital project timing and needs, and uses of reserves. Capital spending on projects slowed in FY18 allowing for a one year delay in the next $125M of debt followed by $75M two years later to fund the CIP. The potential use of reserves to fund future operating deficits, shown on the SOR analysis as “structural challenges”, coupled with executing the capital plan as currently prioritized reflects a need for cash flow which results in dipping too deep into the University’s reserves. Timing and spending decisions are critically important for today and in the future as prioritization is being analyzed against programmatic needs.

The trustees were appreciative of the analysis and thoughtfulness going into the work on the FY19 capital project planning. In lieu of an approved FY19 CIP, projects exceeding $500K will be brought to the Board for approval. The impacts of future plans for debt levels, capital spend and operating results on SB6 ratios are also being modeled throughout the planning process.

- Resolution, FY19 Century Bond Allocation

No further discussion.
Trustee Scholl made a motion to recommend approval of the FY19 Century Bond Allocation resolution to the full board; Trustee Smullen provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

- Consent, Capital Projects

AVP Architecture, Design and Construction, Greg Robertson provided details for three capital projects previously presented to the Board which require additional action – Chemistry Building spending authorization for the $36.4M remaining approved budget; a shift of $0.9M from the Russ Opportunity Center (ROC) approved budget to the HCOM Utilities Phase I project to fund utility projects for the ROC to be accomplished in tandem with the HCOM project; and an additional $725K to fund the second phase of masonry repairs on James Hall for the remainder of the building. Three first-time projects for which design and construction approval is being requested included – Convocation Center 3rd Floor Restrooms, Facility Site Improvements-HCOM Phase I, and Athens Campus Roadway Mill and Overlay. AVP Robertson concluded with several highlights of the summer construction activity scheduled on the Athens campus.

Trustee Scholl made a motion recommend the Capital Projects resolution be retained on the Consent Agenda; Trustee Smullen provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

- Consent Resolution, HCOM Matching Quasi-Endowment

VP Shaffer discussed the request to expand the Heritage College of Medicine Scholarship Match Program by $1.5M for a total of $2.5M in match funds available for qualifying endowed scholarships. The Scholarship Match Program was established by the College and approved by the Board in January, 2017 with the original $1.0M allocation. Due to the success of the program to date, the College has identified an additional $1.5M to support the program as long as funding is available and donors are interested in participating.

Trustee Coleman made a motion to recommend approval of the Konneker Alumni Center resolution to the full board; Trustee Smullen provided a second; the motion was unanimously approved.

- Park Place Corridor Strategy
Vice President Jason Pina and AVP Shawna Bolin provided an update on the future of the Park Place Corridor project. The planning successfully involved many constituencies that travel through the designated area – both university and community citizens and visitors. AVP Bolin noted that the strategy is considered final, shared high-level estimates of phased costs to develop the area, and indicated that project engagement and design could commence once funding is identified and secured. The project could represent an excellent fund raising opportunity and the actual implementation has the added benefit of addressing underground tunnels and utilities deferred maintenance issues along the corridor.
