He completed a doctorate in Higher Education Administration at North Carolina State University. He holds an academic appointment as affiliated faculty in Higher Education and Student Affairs in the Patton College of Education at Ohio University.

Ryan resides in Athens, Ohio, with his wife, Dr. Kara Lombardi, and his two daughters.
University Mission & Vision

OHIO Mission
Ohio University holds as its central purpose the intellectual and personal development of its students. Distinguished by its rich history, diverse campus, international community, and beautiful Appalachian setting, Ohio University is known as well for its outstanding faculty of accomplished teachers whose research and creative activity advance knowledge across many disciplines.

Vision
Ohio University will be the nation’s best transformative learning community where students realize their promise, faculty advance knowledge, staff achieve excellence, and alumni become global leaders.

Division Mission
The Division of Student Affairs at Ohio University prepares students to be responsible and contributing members of a diverse, global society by providing learning-centered environments, meaningful out-of-class opportunities, and professional support services that help them learn through their experience and achieve academic success.

In seeking to accomplish our mission, we are committed to:
• Encouraging the development of the whole student and involving all students in the life of the University.
• Cultivating a caring and civil campus community that values responsible and ethical behavior, open and free exchange of ideas, and respect for all people.
• Maximizing our effectiveness through responsible stewardship of resources, support of innovation, and creativity in problem-solving.
• Working collaboratively and forming partnerships with each other, with our colleagues across campus and with the community.
• Fostering a participative work environment for our staff, which encourages continuous improvement, collaboration, professional development and a balanced lifestyle.
Ohio University holds as its central purpose the intellectual and personal development of its students” is the first sentence of Ohio University’s mission statement. Personal integrity and character both inside and outside of the classroom are inherent elements of Ohio University. Members of the OHIO community are expected to commit to the highest standards of personal honesty and ethical behavior.

Character

“Ohio University holds as its central purpose the intellectual and personal development of its students” is the first sentence of OHIO’s mission statement. Personal integrity and character both inside and outside of the classroom are inherent elements of Ohio University. Members of the OHIO community are expected to commit to the highest standards of personal honesty and ethical behavior.

Community

Membership in the Ohio University community includes being involved and responsible members of not only the university community, but also the local Athens community and the global community. All members of the OHIO community are expected to be responsible community members, to show appreciation for diversity and to represent the values of the OHIO community.

Citizenship

Members of the OHIO community contribute to the advancement of society, both now and for future generations. Such a commitment to the public sphere can have many expressions, such as voting, recycling, volunteering, using public transportation, and cleaning up litter. OHIO citizens give more than they take. They are responsible citizens both on and off campus, foster community involvement, become engaged citizens acting for the public good, and respect university property and the property of others.

Civility

The OHIO community is an open forum involving the free exchange of ideas and scholarly discourse. For free and open exchange to occur, members of the OHIO community are expected to embrace civility in communication at all times.

Commitment—The OHIO Promise

Sincere and true commitment is practicing your beliefs and values. Once you have committed yourself to becoming a community member at OHIO, you commit to hold yourself and your fellow OHIO community members to these values.
